News Digest.

The passage of the Tariff bill by the Republican House is hailed with great enthusiasm in the iron districts of Pennsylvania. Meetings were held, and salutes fired, in various places on Saturday evening, on the reception of the news. This may be regarded as a mere omen of the glorious triumph which awaits the Republican banner in the noble old Keystone State next Fall.

The U. S. cruisers in the Gulf of Mexico have at last succeeded in capturing a genuine live slaver! The frigate Mohawk having arrived at New Orleans, on Saturday, with the bark Wildfire in charge, having some five hundred slaves on board, which she had captured off the coast of Cuba.

HORACE GREELEY and ELI THAYER have been appointed substitutes for the Oregon delegates to the National Republican Convention, and are instructed to vote for EDWARD BATES.

The New England States are suffering from a new re-drought—it being necessary, in some instances, to drive cattle miles for water.—Fires in the woods are also prevalent in consequence.

The Japanese Embassy are to be received with great eclat at Washington to-day. On Wednesday they are to have a formal interview with the President and his Cabinet.

JOHN H. LEWIS, our brilliant U. S. Marshal, has been tried at Milwaukee and acquitted of the charge of fraudulent voting. It was not denied that he voted out of his own Ward, but it was claimed that it was not his intention to violate the law. He did not know what Ward he lived in, and it was not to be presumed that the office of Marshal conferred upon him additional intelligence. We think that is so.—Janesville Gazette.

Easy, brother. That plea was made by the Marshal's "Democratic" counsel. We Republicans knew better. President BUCHANAN has made none but "brilliant" selections for the Federal offices in this State.

DEATH OF HON. THOMAS SERGEANT.—The Philadelphia papers announce the death of the Hon. THOMAS SERGEANT, which took place in that city on the 5th inst. Mr. SERGEANT was a son of the Hon. JONATHAN D. SERGEANT, and a brother of the celebrated JOHN SERGEANT. He was born in the year 1791, and was in the 79th year of his age when he died. During the early part of his life, Mr. SERGEANT was a writer in the journals of the day, and contributed many articles in poetry and prose. In 1819 he was appointed Attorney General of the State. He was afterwards Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, a position he occupied until 1845. Physical debility led to his retirement, and, for the last ten years, we believe, practised at the bar. Judge SERGEANT was a man of many accomplishments. He belonged to the old school of Philadelphia lawyers.

A GENTLEMAN OF THIS CITY, says the Buffalo Express, who was recently in Toledo during the excitement occasioned by the suspension of the Tecumseh Bank, tells a good thing incident to that occurrence. The Tecumseh Bank had a redeeming office in Toledo, and when that institution shut down on the coin, there was naturally much ado in the city, and "Tecumseh money" was all the talk. In close proximity to the redeeming office, a sharp and enterprising green grocer was located in trade, and to him the Tecumseh money excitement afforded an opportunity for attracting attention to his establishment and perpetrating an excellent joke at the same time. He painted in large letters and conspicuously placed before his door the following attractive sign: "Tecumseh Money taken here for Potatoes, Barrel for Barrel."

THE RECENT PRIZE-FIGHT has furnished the English House of Commons with some very felicitous features of speech. When Mr. OSBORN wishes to intimate that his friend, Mr. BRIGHT, is too knock-down a Reformer, he says that his nature is of the disposition of that celebrated foreigner, the Benicia Boy, and that he is always for flooring somebody When he wishes to compliment his friend, Mr. BRIGHT, for argumentative power, he styles him a most extraordinary, clever and straigh-forward hitter, but deprecatingly adds that he is too fond of pitching his hat into the Parliamentary prize-ring and punishing his adversary in pugilistic fashion. The expressive phraseology of the the P. R. seems in fair way for being permanently gratified on the vernacular.

FIFTH AVENUE.—Those who live on Fifth Avenue, the aristocratic residence street in New York, stand in slippery places. It is the calculation of one of the most experienced house agents and real estate brokers in the city that the average tenure of the magnificent mansions on that avenue, by the families of commercial aristocracy, does not exceed three years; in other words, that the occupants are on an average failing once in three years.

TWENTY-FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD FOR THE OTTUMWA MURDERERS.—The father of the Rockford lady, murdered at Ottumwa, Iowa, has offered one thousand dollars, Gov. GRIMES has offered one thousand dollars, and the citizens of Ottumwa have offered five hundred dollars, making twenty-five hundred dollars in all, as a reward to any one who may take and deliver said LAWRENCE and MACOMB over to the hands of justice.

UNGRATEFUL.—A man in Davenport, Iowa, named GREGG, who, while endeavoring recently to deprive himself of life by hanging, was cut down by his wife, was so incensed at her, that as soon as he could muster sufficient strength, he attempted to murder her with a knife. She succeeded in escaping from him, however.

THE TRAVELING EDITORS had a pleasant time in the Federal City. They were shown through the Capitol, the rooms of the U. S. Coast Survey, the Smithsonian, the Executive mansion, where they were welcomed by Old Buck, &c., &c. Their trip to Mt. Vernon was also conducive of pleasure.

Improvements in Waupaca County.

"The farmers in this vicinity have been clearing, breaking their prairie lands, and enclosing, until (as the Suckers say when they get their prairies fenced) there is "proportionately but little land left out of doors." We had no idea of finding much of the surplus of last year's crop here yet on hand, but find in the possession of one farmer, Mr. WILLIAMS, who resides about two miles west of the town, 1,000 bushels of wheat, in wheat and flour, which he is still holding on to for larger prices, and on inquiry find that there is still considerable wheat in the hands of the farmers throughout the county.—After careful examination, we have come to the conclusion, which the inhabitants here admit, that the hard times are proving far more beneficial to them and the country than detrimental.

The farmers, most of them, have their land paid for, and in other ways are out of debt; and the land speculation fever having largely abated, they, instead of spending their time in thinking and talking of selling their farms for high prices and buying again, and in waiting for a purchaser to come along, &c., have concluded that it would prove far more profitable to improve them themselves, and have gone at it in right good earnest; also to the building of good school houses, and the opening and improving of roads. They are now opening a State road from this place to Shawano and taking the necessary steps to establish a mail route between the two county seats — Waupaca and Shawano. When this is done they will have a good road from here to the lumbering regions on both branches of the Oconto, which will tend to bring the lumbermen of that extensive pine region this way, to procure their winter supplies—it being a distance of fourteen miles less for them to haul them, than when landed at the mouth of the Oconto, to say nothing of shipping it to that place from Green Bay and other ports up the lake, or the higher prices that produce brings at most of the lake ports.

The Grist Mill that has been in operation in this place lately burned down, and the proprietor, C. S. OGDEN, finding himself unable to finish a new one, which he has already up and inclosed, informs me that he will give a great chance to anybody who will step in, finish up, and put the mill in operation. I am also credibly informed that the proprietor of the Grist Mill at Scandinavia, since the first of October last, has taken in toll for custom work, 2,600 bushels of wheat not to mention that taken in on coarser grains, and we see no reason why a Grist Mill may not be made to pay as well here as there.

The people here, as well as of all other towns, have now and then their political freaks. A late one has shown itself in a current rumor and belief that the town officers were too well paid for their labor, and to economise they have agitated the subject of reducing the salary of those which they could so low that the officers, when elected, would not serve, making necessary the holding of another election, and thus in this case, as well as in most others of a similar nature, the expense has been increased instead of being diminished. For every inconsistency, indiscreetness or excess, we must pay.

The late rains here have refreshed and enlivened things very much, and nature is now putting on her most lovely and inviting countenance. More anon. Z. C. F.

THE STRIPED PIG OUTDONE.—The latest and most successful liquor dodge ever perpetrated, lately transpired at Worcester, Mass. A Philadelphia ale and beer manufacturer notified his Worcester agent, JOSEPH HILL, that he had forwarded him 150 casks of ale, valued at $1,000. Mr. HILL telegraphed back that he dared not remove it from the cars, lest the city marshal should seize it in pursuance of the provisions of the Massachusetts liquor law. On Saturday some Boston parties arrived in Worcester and sued out a writ against the Philadelphia manufacturer, who was perfectly good before, and placed the writ in the hands of a Sheriff, who immediately carted the ale to Mr. HILL's premises, and appointed him keeper. It is doubtful if the case comes to trial.

SINGULAR CASE.—The New York papers give the following as the last case of fraud:

"A man named Augustus Campbell, owning property valued at $10,000, encumbered by mortgages amounting to $7,500, located on Atlantic street and Hamilton Avenue, desired to transfer his property to his wife, for some purpose best known to himself. To accomplish the object legally, it was necessary first to transfer the property to a third party, to be re-transferred to the wife. A man named Edwin Baker was selected as a convenient friend, and the property was duly transferred to him. Once in his hands he refused to re-transfer it to the wife, and a suit having been brought in the City Court to recover the property, Judge Culver yesterday decided that Baker had committed a gross fraud—that he fraudulently got the deed from the Campbells, and never intended returning it as agreed upon. Baker was required to give $1,000 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury."

MR. NORMAN WIARD, the inventor of the ice boat, which is now at Prairie du Chien, writing to the Leader of that place, says:

"I loaded my Ice Boat at Jersey City on a car of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, from which place it passed over the New Jersey, the New Jersey Central, the Lehigh Valley, the Eastern Pennsylvania, the Lebanon Valley and the Pennsylvania Central Railroads to Pittsburgh without change. It was there transferred to a car of the Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, and arrived at Chicago, where it was changed to a car of the Chicago and Galena Railroad, upon which it came to Prairie du Chien, a distance of 1,200 miles, all of which distance it might have traversed on the same car upon which I loaded it first, there being a difference of but an inch and a half in the gauge of a continuous line of iron from the Hudson to the Mississippi."

NEW INVENTION.—Mr. Samuel H. Cooke, of Scottsville, Virginia, has invented a new method of propelling canal boats by steam. The principal features of the invention are that the power is obtained by the alternating motion of two parallel rods operating horizontally within open submerged chambers. The length of the stroke will be about twenty feet, and the engine is to be constructed so as to apply the power direct from the cylinders, dispensing with crank and fly wheels. When the rods are put in motion the projected valve plunges against the water and propels the boat. The receding valve is lifted by the pressure of water below and returns to the starting point, from which it is again projected. The water displaced does not flow to the sides of the canal, and the washing of the banks is avoided.

IN THE GALE.—During the storm on Tuesday afternoon, Dr. BURT, of this city, met with a singular accident. When the storm came on, he was on the prairie to the Southwest of the city. The rain cloud, which was very dense, settled close to the earth, so that it was quite dark; and the wind blowing a gale, overturned his buggy, and landed the doctor in the road, scaring the horse not a little—and the man too, we imagine. He managed to get righted up and started somewhere—but couldn't tell in what direction, until he had gone near three-fourths of a mile. Considering the Dr.'s weight (about 226 pounds) we should think he would have proved better ballast.—Oshkosh Courier.

SIGNS OF PROSPERITY AT WINONA.—If any one is disposed to doubt that a prosperous future is in store for Southern Minnesota, let him take a walk on the levee and see the thousands of bushels of grain piled there ready for shipment to the Eastern and Southern markets. No use of mourning over future prospects, when such evidences of wealth and prosperity are daily placed in our view.—Winona Rep.

Departure of Steamers.

FOR COLLINGWOOD.

The Collingwood Line of screw steamers leave—one each day—from Dousman's dock, foot of East Water Street, connecting at Collingwood with cars from the East.

FOR BUFFALO.

FOR PORT WASHINGTON, &c.

The steamer Gazelle leaves Olmsted's dock, every morning at 8 o'clock, for Port Washington, Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Two Rivers.

FOR GREEN BAY.

VISITORS FROM THE EAST.

There will be thousands of people from the Atlantic States, at Chicago this week, who have never seen Milwaukee, or any part of Wisconsin. Undoubtedly very many of them desire to do so, and would certainly pay us a flying visit, after the adjournment of the Convention, if they are invited to come up here. Hardly one of our Merchants, Business Men, and other leading citizens, but can count friends and acquaintances among the thousands who will throng Chicago this week. Why not run down to Chicago, then, and invite those friends to come and take a look at Milwaukee?

Arrival of Foreign Goods.

About fifty tons of merchandize, direct from England, were landed at the Detroit and Milwaukee Railway docks, Saturday, en route for the Northwestern British Possessions.—The goods came by the way of Portland and the Grand Trunk to Detroit, and thence by the D. & M. Railway to this city. This is the second or third arrival of foreign goods at this port, within a short period, for the same destination.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEWS:—"A statement appeared in the SENTINEL of Thursday morning, accusing Mr. Larkin, late Principal of the Second Ward High School, of tampering with the Board of School Commissioners, and using strenuous endeavors to get the High Schools closed and a Central Normal School established, that he might be appointed at its head. This statement, which was substantially true, was too bold and independent an expression of opinion for the SENTINEL, and on Friday morning it was taken back. Now, I wish to state through the columns of the News that Mr. Larkin is the prime agitator of this subject."

So writes an anonymous scribbler in Saturday's News. His idea of "boldness and independence" seems to be that a statement once made must be stuck to, especially if it be untrue. The article which first appeared in the SENTINEL, rested, as the writer supposed, on good authority. It was "taken back" on Mr. LARKIN's authority, who pledged his word and honor to us, that the statements which it contained, and which the correspondent of the News repeats, are without any foundation in fact. Whether Mr. LARKIN will deem it worth his while to reply to his anonymous assailant in the News, is for him, not for us, to say.

THE MERCANTILE CYPHER.—We have received a little volume of three hundred pages, with the following title, "BUELL's Mercantile Cypher, for condensing telegrams relating to foreign news, market reports, financial matters, contracts, commissions, shipping, purchase and sales, quotations of stocks and securities, personal matters, etc, etc." Designed expressly for stock brokers, bankers, insurance companies and agents, forwarders, commission merchants, vessel owners, dealers in produce, &c. By J. S. BUELL.

The object of this book, as the title indicates, is to substitute cyphers and sign words for phrases in telegraphing; thus condensing the words and lessening the expense as well as the labor.

The words to be substituted are alphabetically arranged with their definitions, and can be so used as to make a saving of from four to eight hundred per cent in the cost of telegraphing.

A POPULAR INSTITUTION.—The Le Brun Billiard Saloon, in YOUNG's New Block, Main Street, is having as good a "run" as Aif usually makes on one of those splendid PHELAN tables. Curiosity to see LE BRUN himself, the best player in the West, attracts many; while the game itself counts numerous votaries. JOHN GOODELL, who presides at the Bar, and dispenses "iced lemonade" and other cooling beverages, is an adept at the business; while DRUMMEY "does the agreeable" in his own taking way.

CHARLIE WILSON, late of the Theatre of this city, is the Stage Manager of the Academy of Music at Milwaukee. He will make a good one, and we are glad to know that this "Fine Old Gentleman" still remains in the State.—Madison Patriot.

WILSON makes an excellent Manager. He works hard and is fully up to the business. Moreover, he appears well in every character that he undertakes, and is altogether a very useful and popular member of Mr. WEBB's Company.

FOR CHICAGO!—The steamer Gazelle, Capt. BUTLIN, is to make daily trips to Chicago, commencing this evening. She will leave here at 9 o'clock P. M. and Chicago at 9 A. M. Fare each way One Dollar, stateroom included. The Gazelle starts from OLMSTED's dock in the river.

The Dry Goods Trade.

The most brilliant example of the success of advertising, that we know of in Milwaukee, is J. L. DAVIS, of 173 East Water street. He has literally worked himself up to a position which, in the East, would be styled "Merchant Prince," by his liberal use of print-er's ink and by the indefatigable efforts to make all his assertions good; and he now stands foremost among the dry goods merchants of our city, pre-eminent as well for his enterprise as his liberality. Within the last half-year his business has expanded rapidly, and we now find, by an examination of his store, that it is really one of the most important places of business on East Water street. We find every floor of the large establishment packed full of goods, which are arranged under different departments—as silks, linens, cloaks, carpets, fancy goods, jobbing department, &c.—and twenty-one clerks attending to their various duties with all the expedition and care that is the result of complete system. Ten minutes spent among the silks satisfied us of the truth of all that has been said in relation to them. What are called robes—very rich in flounces—organdies, and jaconets, and a list of other unpronounceable textile luxuries, in rich profusion and without end, invited our attention. The linen department we found to be the largest and best selected of any yet brought to our notice. On the third floor, —devoted exclusively to the manufacture of cloaks, raglans, mantillas, &c.,—some nine or ten young ladies were industriously at work. We were particularly pleased with the stock of carpets, rugs, oil cloths, mattings, &c., and have no hesitation in endorsing what has been said so often in relation to this department of Mr. DAVIS' store. The newest styles of old English Brussels, Milton Tapestry, Biglow, Ingrains, &c., are actually offered at a lower figure than they can be bought for anywhere else. This fact is one of the results of our energetic friend's business tact. He purchases directly from the manufacturers, and is content with a profit that can only pay when the sales are to be depended on and the terms are cash.

J. L. DAVIS merits the attention not only of the ladies, but of our country merchants. His jobbing department is fuller, and more systematically managed, than one can have any idea of but by an examination.

THE CONTRACT between nations highly civilized and nations rudely barbarous, is seen in nothing more than in their organizations for mental help, and for the accomplishment of great undertakings. Civilized men perceive their dependence upon each other, and profit frequently by a union of their strength, influence and wealth; savages seldom unite in effort of any kind. They hunt, fish, and live with little recognition of the principle—"in union there is strength." The bonds of the tribe and family are almost the only ones which unite them, but as civilization advances, union and organization are more and more developed. Charitable, commercial and religious associations are formed, and exert powerful influence to lift to still higher civilization and prosperity.—And yet there are among us some who seem to be repelled at once from connection with any organization that bears the name of "Mutual," or implies any departure from their favorite motto—"I'll paddle my own canoe."—Their motto has a great many exceedingly good applications, but it smacks too much of selfish feeling and of savage life to be of universal application. It seems to us that there are very few who can afford to live without the associations which modern civilization and science have produced for the protection of families, when death takes away their natural provider and protector. Of these associations, Life Insurance Companies are the very best kind. And of Life Companies, it can be demonstrated that those adopting the purely mutual system are the best in principle and the most successful in practice.

The largest and best companies in this country and Europe are purely mutual, and more than this, so pre-eminently successful have these been that all the companies in the U. S. except one have been constrained to adopt mutual tables to secure business.—Unlike fire companies, they make no assessments, but like stock companies, charge at the outset a sufficient sum to cover losses and expenses and a margin for safety and profits, which profits accrue to the benefit of the insured, instead of stockholders. It must be evident to any sensible man that the premiums and interest upon them must in any company pay the losses or it would soon become defunct, and if they also furnish inducements to stockholders to pledge their money or their notes for the sake of dividends to be received from the excess of premiums, they evidently furnish ample security for the insured. It is a fact that every Mutual Life Co. in the U. S. which has been in operation ten years or more is larger than that of any Stock Life Co. The reason for this is evident. The interests of the insured and the stockholders are directly opposed. The nearer the latter can keep the accumulations down to a line just above insolvency the better for them; but in Mutual companies there is no selfish motive to induce the distribution of accumulations below the line which disinterested mathematicians declare to be the line of perfect safety. This is a point of prime importance in Life Insurance, for the contracts are made for a number of years and losses are least in the earlier years. There is greater probability that the insured will have fair and honorable treatment by Trustees elected from themselves, than by stockholders who become such simply for the money to be made out of it. These and other considerations induce us to recommend all who wish to insure to do so in a Mutual Company, and it is the duty and private interest of every Western man to let that Company be the successful and enterprising one of our own State.

IT HAS LONG been a question with the smoking community where they could get the best cigars—and now the question who keeps the best smoking tobacco has arisen. We propose to answer theses question. The best flavored cigars and the best quality of smoking tobacco can be had of MORSE BROS., on East Water Street, adjoining NOYES' furniture store.

MORSE BROS. certainly keep the highest flavored imported cigars we have been able to find in Milwaukee. And their stock is so extensive that the most particular old smoker can pick and choose, and not fail to find just what he wants.

The meerschaums all go to MORSE to be replenished, for he keeps the genuine Turkish and all the other genuine brands of smoking tobacco, and above all being a great favorite with Young America, they experience great satisfaction in the interview.

We say all this of MORSE with the greatest pleasure; he has set all the town puffing, and it would be strange indeed if the editors were excluded.

A MERCHANT in the city informs us that last week a German woman brought into his place of business six bundles of straw, and sold them for four cents a bundle. It turned out afterwards that she had carried her load three miles, and with a perseverance worthy of a better consequence, had reaped 24 cents as her recompense.

Room for the Board of Trade.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Allow me, through the columns of your paper, to call the attention of our business men to the expediency of making arrangements with the party about to rebuild the corner of East Water and Wisconsin streets, for a large hall, upon the second floor of the new building, for the accommodation of the Board of Trade of this city. A room which, for all time, should be dedicated to the uses and benefits of this organization, and which should be held on a permanent lease, as the "Board of Trade Rooms of the City of Milwaukee."

A little action now, on the part of our present Board, will, I doubt not, secure to this body a suite of rooms which, for convenience and elegance, will not only be a credit to our business community, but such as will compare favorably with Exchange in any other city in the Union; and that, too, at a very small cost, compared to the outlay made in other cities for halls of this character. Such an arrangement would, I conceive, not only settle any difference or controversy which might arise in the future, among the members of the association in regard to location, but would tend, more than any other one thing, to the permanence and stability of the institution.

BOOKS ADDED TO THE YOUNG MEN'S ASSOCIATION LIBRARY.—It will be seen by advertisement that another batch of books have been added to the Library, of which we note the following:

"The Mill on the Floss," by a writer whose identity on the appearance of her "Adam Bede," was such an interesting puzzle to reviewers; "Irvingiana," a collection of eloquent tributes to the recently deceased litterateur; "My Diary in India," by a noted correspondent of the London Times; "Doctor Oldham at Greystone," already considerably talked about; "Recollections and Private Memoirs of Washington," by his adopted son, G. W. P. CURTIS, with pen and pencil illustrations by other hands; three new works by that indefatigable historian and traveller, J. S. C. ABBOTT; "Sketches of Women Artists," by one of their own sex; a prime book of "Travels in Switzerland;" Political Debates by two veteran campaigners; Something about the Roman Question; an antidote for the blues, in "Whims and Waifs," by HOOD; "Glaucus," a small volume by KINGSLEY; a less known work of the elder D'ISRAELI; the "Calamities and Quarrels of Authors;" Mrs. BROWNING's new book of Poems; a beautiful volume of BOWN's illustrated library—the Lives and Works of MICHAEL ANGELO and RAPHAEL; a "Manual of Coal and its Topography," for the geologically inclined; "Sketches of the Mississippi Valley, its Pioneer Preachers and People," by the Rev. W. H. MILBURN; some further volumes of the "Encyclopedia Britannica," and the "New American Cyclopedia," and other works for those in search of the solids, &c.

WHEN YOU HEAR a man beating a drum, or singing in plaintive strains as the evening comes on—a pathetic ballad with a chorus of you need not suppose that it is anything but a Peter Funk establishment. Auctioneers have a right to earn an honest living, and sandwich sparring exhibitions between exhordiums on tin spoons They may make the streets vocal with their melodious eloquence, and drown all opposition with their infernal drum, but we cannot for a moment suppose that any stranger from the verdantest section of Badgerdom is to be so unequivocally "sucked in," as to suppose this is anything else but the loudest and most unconscionable humbug.

THE CHAMPION OF THE SMALL WEIGHTS.—That microscopic sheet, the La Crosse Republican, serves up the Milwaukee papers again, dealing out its malignant abuse on the whole quartette of unhappy publications, whose great misfortune is that they are not admirers of the little loafer at La Crosse.

It is a fact that the greatest weapon of defence is insignificance. It is invulnerable—you cannot strike it—it has no head, no front. In this respect our cotemporary is fortunate. It's ambition is and has been, to obtain that notoriety, by attacking respectable journals, which it never could obtain by decency or merit; and to retaliate it becomes absolutely necessary for us to request some gentleman to hold the little fellow up, so that we can get at him.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC—BENEFIT OF BILLY O'NEIL.—An extra entertainment is announced for this evening, at the Academy of Music. The programme is a rich one and the performances are for the benefit of BILLY O'NEIL. We do not hesitate to say that O'NEIL is the best representative of Irish character that has ever been seen on our stage. His acting, singing and dancing are all excellent. He appears to-night in three of his best characters. Having done so much, during the past few weeks, to amuse our Milwaukee public, he surely deserves a liberal return. We hope, therefore, to see the Academy crowded to-night with the largest audience of the season.

THE POLICE.—"A tax payer," in the SENTINEL of Saturday, made some inquiries as to the number of men employed in the police force during the past year. The Chief of Police, Mr. BECK, informs us that the average number of policemen for the year has been twenty-one—all in active service. Those who wish to see a detailed statement of the names of the policemen, their salaries and other expenses, can obtain the information they seek by examining the monthly reports of the Chief, on file in the Comptroller's Office.

GET OUT YOUR "five minute freezers."—It's no use talking, the heated term will be here before you can articulate the euphonious patronymic of Jack Robinson; and while you are about it, go to the Family Grocery in YOUNG's Block, and buy some fruit; or, if you are naturally opposed to fruit, buy a wagon. GEORGE sells things so reasonably, that we take it for granted people want to buy of him, whether they have any use for their purchases or not.

Maryance Petrioska, disorderly. Discharged.

DAILY, TRI-WEEKLY & WEEKLY

RUFUS KING, EDITOR.

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 14, 1860.

A Busy Week at Chicago.

This will be a busy and exciting week at Chicago The Republican National Convention meets on Wednesday, but no doubt all the Delegates and thousands of spectators will reach there to-day. The Chicago people are making every effort to provide for the comfort and entertainment of the fifty thousand visitors who may be looked for during the week.

At a meeting of the Executive Republican Committee of Chicago, and the Chairmen of the various State Committees, now there, held on Tuesday, a committee of five was appointed to open a register, and ascertain who of the citizens, boarding house keepers, &c., would entertain strangers, who might be there to witness the proceedings of the Convention, who are unable to obtain quarters at the hotels. J. J. RICHARDS is chairman of that Committee, and a register will be opened at the Wigwam, where all such as are desirous or willing to entertain strangers may enter their names and place of residence, with the preference of the State from which they would have them.

On the morning of the Convention the Chairmen of the different State Committees and the Wigwam Committee will march in procession to the headquarters of the delegations from the different States, and after all are gathered, they will march in full procession to the Wigwam, when that building will be yielded to the possession of the Convention.

The Massachusetts Delegation, with their friends, in all several hundred strong, started from Boston on Saturday morning, spent Sunday at Niagara Falls, and will reach Chicago this evening. They will be accompanied by GILMORE'S splendid Boston Brass Band. The New York delegation, accompanied by two bands of music, are also expected at Chicago to-day. The Great Wigwam, which was formally opened on Saturday, will be crowded with enthusiastic Republicans, every evening this week, to listen to the eloquent exhortations of our Republican orators and leaders. Under the tasty and skillful direction of the ladies, the Wigwam has been appropriately decorated and presents a splendid appearance. Altogether, we think that those of our readers, who have a day or two to spare, can enjoy them most satisfactorily by running down to Chicago during the session of our Republican National Convention.

The Republican National Convention.

This body, upon which the eyes of the Republic are now fixed and on whose wise and harmonious action its hopes depend, assembles in Chicago next day after to-morrow.—Twenty-five States will be represented in the Convention: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Ohio, Wisconsin, Texas, Minnesota, Oregon, California, and the embryo State of Kansas. These States are entitled to 237 Electoral votes, and being represented by double delegations it will require 236 votes to make a nomination.

At the Republican Convention in Philadelphia, four years ago, there were 367 delegates in attendance. There will be at least 100 more at the Chicago Convention. So grows the Republican party.

The Electoral Colleges of the Union cast 303 votes, 152 of which are necessary to elect a President and Vice President. The Republicans will elect their candidates if they carry but two-thirds of the Presidential Electors of the States which are represented at Chicago.

The Course of the Administration.

The Black Republicans and their allies, the Buchanan, have killed Senator Douglas, as often announced a day for the past two years, so that he might with great propriety exclaim with St. Paul, "I die daily."—Voice of Sabsequoy.

"The Black Republicans and their allies," the Douglasites, have done the same for the BUCHANAN administration. Indeed, neither faction of the Democracy can complain of want of attention from the Black Republicans. If we have helped the "Little Giant" to finish BUCHANAN, we have seconded J B. in his "mull" with DOUGLAS. As between the two belligerants, the Black Republicans entertain the same strictly impartial feeling as the wife who witnessed the "hug" between her husband and the bear. We don't care which whips; and decidedly commend to them, as worthy of all imitation, the example of the Kilkenny cats.

Democratic Economy.

The national debt is now $65,000,000.—When Mr. BUCHANAN first went into office there was $24,000,000 in the Treasury. He has therefore expended $91,000,000 beyond the ordinary receipts of the Government in a little over three years. A large proportion of this sum has been expended in sustaining rotten doughface newspapers, in buying up Members of Congress, in forcing the Constitution of Kansas down the throats of the People of Kansas, and in other corrupt schemes.

Not one dollar of it, however, has been expended in improving the navigation and protecting the Commerce of the Great Lakes and the Western Rivers. National Democracy knows no West.

VOTES AT NATIONAL CONVENTIONS.—In 1839, at the Harrisburgh Convention, 254 votes were cast, of which Gen. HARRISON received 148, CLAY 90, SCOTT 16.

In 1844 no ballot was taken for President, HENRY CLAY being declared unanimously nominated by resolution.

In 1848, 277 votes were cast. On the first ballot Gen. TAYLOR had 111, CLAY 97, WEBSTER 21, SCOTT 46, MCLEAN 2. On the final ballot, Gen. TAYLOR had 171, CLAY 30, SCOTT 63, WEBSTER 12.

In 1852, there were 292 votes. On the 53d ballot, Gen. SCOTT had 159, FILLMORE 112, WEBSTER 21. The platform was adopted by 227 to 60.

At the Buffalo Convention, in 1848, all the free States and Delaware, Maryland and Virginia were represented; 425 votes were cast—244 for VAN BUREN, 181 for HALE.

At the Philadelphia Convention in 1856, there were 367 votes cast, of which 329 were for FREMONT.

WHO SPEAKS FIRST?—The great contest among the Conventions just now seems to be to avoid the responsibility of making the first nomination. The Democratic "National" Convention adjourned over to June without a nomination. The Democratic Southern Convention did the same, Now it is reported that there will be an effort in the "Constitutional Union" Convention at Baltimore this week to follow suit and come in last of all. There will be a Convention next week, however, which will have the courage to declare itself, to name its standard-bearer, and come before the country, without waiting to base its action upon that of anybody else.—Boston Daily Advertiser.

This is so. The Republican Convention which assembles on Wednesday next, will not need to wait the action of the divided Democracy to determine upon its own course. It will boldly put forward its representative man and distinctive platform, and confidently appeal to the people to sustain both.

THE PREVAILING POPULAR SENTIMENT.—The Elkhorn Independent gives the following illustration of the spirit of the gallant Republicans of Walworth county.

"'Let the Chicago Convention nominate Seward,' said an earnest Republican to us, the other day, 'or some other known anti-slavery man, and I will spend two months in working for his election; but if a half-way man is nominated, I care but little how it comes out. I will probably go the polls and vote, but I cannot work.'

And this is the feeling of thousands of anti-slavery men at the North. Give us a representative man, and if we cannot elect him let us wait until we can, rather than win a temporary and damaging success."

Texas at Chicago.

Correspondence of the Detroit Advertiser.

CHICAGO, May 9, 1860.

On the 12th of April, a State Convention was held at Austin, Texas, at which the following delegates were chosen to the Chicago National Convention.

At Large—J. DUNBAR HENDERSON, JAS. SCOTT, J. STRAUSS, G. FITCH.

"District Delegates—1. E. J. GARRISON, WILLIAM SNAGRIST; 2, M. J. E CHANDLER, A. J. YOAKUM.

Strong Republican resolutions were adopted. The delegates were instructed to vote in favor of WILLIAM H. SEWARD for President.

There is a large German population in Texas. It was their votes alone which elected Gen. HOUSTON. Two of the delegates from Texas—Messrs. STRAUSS and SEAGRIST—are adopted citizens of German birth.

Yours truly, FREE SOIL.

A BOY OVER NIAGARA FALLS.—We learn, says the Rochester Democrat, that a boy ten years old, a son of the late Dr. MACLEM, and a nephew of THOMAS C. STREET, of Chippewa, fell into Niagara river, a short distance above the Falls, on Sunday afternoon, and was carried over the cataract. He was in company with his mother and some other persons on a small island where there is a burning spring, and exhibited a disposition to go too near the edge of the bank, for which he received a caution. He did not heed the warning, however, and in a few minutes he was missed. There is no doubt that he fell into the water, and was swept into the abyss beneath the Falls.

THE COMING EDITORIAL CONVENTION.—The call for the Convention (which is to be held this year at Green Bay) fixes the day on the 16th of June, which is Saturday.—This will probably be changed to the 13th or 20th. We learn from the Green Bay Advocate that preparations are being made already to receive the expected guests with the high consideration which their position, as defenders of the public weal, demands.—There will doubtless be over a hundred editors present, and if the limited hotel accommodations of Green Bay will not suffice there is an abundance of private hospitality. Capt. WHITNEY, with his usual generosity, has volunteered a trip with the Fannie Fisk to Oconto and Menomonee.

SHORT OF MONEY.—The New York Herald wickedly insinuates that the reason why the Charleston Convention adjourned so soon was because the delegates had not money enough to pay their board any longer; so that they had no alternative except to leave or run the risk of being sent to jail for debt—the laws on this subject being very strict at Charleston.

ILLNESS OF CHIEF JUSTICE TANEY.—"Occasional" informs the Philadelphia Press that serious fears are entertained lest Chief Justice TANEY may never again take his seat on the Bench. He fell from sheer exhaustion a few days ago, and had to be borne to his chamber. Another member of this high tribunal is also in a very enfeebled condition.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT.—As three young ladies were leaning from the third story window of C. H. THOMPSON'S Hoop Skirt Factory, in New York, on Tuesday last, to see a passing procession, the railing across the window gave way and precipitated them to the sidewalk. They were dangerously injured.

THE GREAT FIGHT.—In a letter to Wilkes Spirit of the Times, this week, the editor says:

"I have only to add that, however unwilling Englishmen may be to see the belt of the British Champion clasped around the victorious loins of an American, they must, unless their boast of 'fair play' is 'a delusion and a snare,' reconcile themselves to the spectacle, for the Benicia Boy has come for it, can win it, and will have it. G. W."

OFFICIAL DECISION OF THE REFEREE.

Bell's Life in London, April 18, '60.

The decision of the editor of Bell's Life in London, who acted as referee in the match between Heenan and Sayers yesterday, the 17th inst., was that the men should not fight again this week, on the ground of humanity. All bets are, of course, off.

SAYERS' CONDITION.

Certificate from the Surgeons of St. Thomas Hospital.—Having examined Mr. Thomas Sayers this day, we are of opinion, from the contused state of the muscles, tendons and inner bones of the right fore-arm, that he will be unable to use that arm for at least a couple of months, or probably more.

PHILADELPHIA PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—In the year 1850, the public school system of this city included 256 schools, 727 teachers and 45,383 scholars. In 1859, it had reached 323 schools, 1062 teachers, and 61,745 scholars. This is a rapid increase, and manifests the progress of our City in population and intelligence. There was, too, a steady advance every year, the number of scholars being augmented just in proportion as facilities were furnished for their education by the building of school houses, and the employment of additional teachers. We are particularly gratified at the increase of the teachers. In 1850, there was one to every 62 scholars. In 1859, there was one to every 58 scholars. The proportion of schools was somewhat different. In 1850, there was one school to every 177 scholars, In 1859, there was one for every 191 scholars. Thus while the number of teachers in proportion to scholars has multiplied, the number of schools in proportion to scholars has not kept even pace.—Philadelphia North American, May 5.

A MAN AND TWO HORSES KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—Last Thursday, between 12 and 1 o'clock, at just the time this village was visited by a whirlwind, a man named Wm. Armstrong, living about twelve miles from here, was struck by lightning when about half way home, and along with the two horses he was driving, instantly killed. The owner of the team, meanwhile, lay in the bind end of the wagon dead drunk, escaping unhurt, not awakening until an hour or two afterward, when, all unconscious of the terrible catastrophe, he began cursing at the stopping of the team. The man who was killed was sitting upon a keg, which contained not only nails, but a package of gunpowder, which, however, did not explode. Strangely enough, no mark or trace of the thunderbolt could be found, except upon the bodies of its victims.—Baraboo Republic, May 10.

TOM CORWIN recently compared the doughfaceism of the Democracy to the Ephraim of Scripture, which is said to be "a cake unturned," and said with an inimitable look and manner, "O, Ephraim! poor Democratic Ephraim! for God's sake turn over in the pan and bake on the other side.." The effect was electric.—Exchange.

Yes, and magical, for "poor Democratic Ephraim," burning on the Charleston coals, rose almost forthwith and turned over in the pan! though whether for God's sake or his own, is not entirely free from doubt.—Louisville Journal.

WHEAT.—From all sides we hear of the promise of an abundant yield of spring wheat this season. Relying upon this as one of the surest and most profitable crops, our farmers have taken advantage of the dry weather this season to sow a larger number of acres than ever before. Fortunately, rain has fallen in abundance too soon for the drought to affect the crops, and the many acred fields are now developing into a glorious green the noble labors of our agriculturists.—Baraboo Republic.

1859	478,562 83
Increase	$101,569 50

SAYERS NOT AN IRISHMAN.—Bell's Life says: "We have been requested by Sayers father to make it known that the rumors as to his being of Irish descent are utterly untrue. Mr. Sayers says he was born at Steyning, Sussex, and his ancestors for many years were inhabitants of the same county. Tom's mother also and her family were Sussex people."

Enormous Bank Defalcation in London.

The Chief Cashier Defrends the Union Bank out of over $1,315,000.

From the London Post, April 25th.

Since the close of business to-day, the directors of the Union Bank of London have prepared a report for their proprietors relative to the frauds committed upon the establishment by their late chief cashier, which amount is no less a sum than £268,000, and appear to have been effected by a forged passbook, he keeping one for the Bank of England and another for the ledger clerk of the Union Bank. How the system should have been allowed to go on for a period of something like five years seems somewhat extraordinary, and how far the plea of confidence in their servants will be considered a sufficient excuse by the shareholders, remains to be seen. Certainly the frauds which have come to light afford strong presumptive evidence in favor of a more efficient audit than that existing, or of giving the accounts of joint banks in greater detail to the proprietors, so often urged, but pertinaciously objected to by the directors, as tending to show too much of their business to their present or prospective competitors.

Certainly, one line extra in their published accounts would have prevented the mischief in this instance—the frauds being something like £1,000 a week—for merely the words "Balance at the Bank of England, £360,000," or whatever the amount might be, would have been sure to attract the attention of the officials it the amount were not standing there, and explanations would have been sought which could not fail to lead to the discovery that frauds were in progress. It will be seen that, towards recouping the loss, the directors propose to retransfer £120,000, which in July last was transferred from the reserve to the capital account, and which, while the existing reserve fund of £100,000, will do much to meet the defalcations, leaving a balance of £40,000 to be provided, which, it is hoped, will be obtained from the profits of the current year, whilst a dividend of 5 per cent. may be claimed in July, making, with that paid in January last, 12 1-2 per cent. for the year, whilst the capital remains perfectly intact. The following is the directors' report:

It is with deep regret that the directors have to communicate to the proprietors that they have discovered very large frauds committed by their late chief cashier, William George Pullinger, and, with as little delay as possible, they lay before the proprietors a statement of the facts, and submit the course which, upon a careful consideration of the circumstances, they recommend for meeting the loss which has been sustained.

William George Pullinger was appointed a cashier of this bank in April, 1859, having previously held a similar situation in the banking house of Sir Claude Scott & Co., and after sixteen years of most efficient, zealous, and, it is still believed, faithful service in subordinate capacities, was about five years ago raised to the situation of chief cashier, and such was the confidence reposed upon him by the directors and manager, and satisfaction with the manner in which he discharged his duties, that about three months since they voluntarily raised his salary to £600 per annum.

His duties as chief cashier were to superintend the other cashiers, to procure checks for money, to keep their tills supplied, and it devolved upon him to pay all checks, gold and silver coin, bank notes, &c., which were not required for the purpose of this bank to the Bank of England, accompanied by a docket specifying the particulars of each payment, and by the "pass book" of the Bank of England, which was necessarily in his official charge, and an account of these payments was also furnished by Pullinger to the principal ledger keeper. In the ordinary course of business Pullinger daily sent a junior clerk for the pass book which contained the acknowledgement by the Bank of England of the cash paid in, and it was the duty of Pullinger to deliver the pass book to the ledger keeper, whose duty it would then become to check the entries in it against the Bank of England by the items in his ledger.

The ledger keeper, on finding his account tally with the pass book, would report the Bank of England balance to the accountant, to be posted in the general ledger, when any error in the Bank of England balance would disturb the general balance of the day, and become the subject of investigation.

On Thursday last, the 16th inst., in consequence of some information, application was made to the Bank of England for their statement of the balance of this bank, when a deficit of no less than £283,070 8s. 10d. was discovered. Pullinger, who was absent at the time attending the funeral of a relative, was immediately followed by a director and the manager and brought back, when he at once confessed that from losses on the Stock Exchange he had from time to time since his appointment as chief cashier, abstracted large sums from the charges taken over to the Bank of England, which he had concealed from the ledger keeper by exhibiting to him a fabricated pass-book, in which the balance agreed with what appeared in the accountant's general ledger. He was then given into custody.

It may appear proper to state here that the supposed balance at the Bank of England was £569,705 10s 2d., while the certified balance was £306,628 7s. 4d., exhibiting the deficit of £283,070 8s. 10d.

The Two Thousand Guineas Stakes.

From the N. Y. Herald, May 9.

The race for the two thousand guineas stakes at Newmarket was decided on Thursday, the 24th ult., in favor of Mr. Nichols' horse, the Wizard. This race, which is one of the three great events for three year olds on the English turf (the 2 000 guineas, the Derby and the St. Ledger) is invariably regarded with great interest, as, independent of its own importance, it is regarded as affording a key to the winner of the Epsom Derby, which is to be run the following month. The past, however, has proved that it is not a reliable test for this purpose, as during the fifty years that have elapsed since the race was first instituted, the two thousand guineas victor has only four times been successful in winning the "blue ribband of the turf." Those horses were Smolenski, Bay Middleton, Cotherstone and West Australian.

The winner of the present year's two thousand guineas, The Wizard, is a brown colt, by West Australian out of Reckledon's dam, by the Cure. He is a very blood-like animal, with a beautiful head; is very thick through the head and wide across the hips. He ran twice as a two year old, winning the North Bentinck memorial stakes, at Goodwood, and running second when amiss to Vanquisher, for the North of England biennial stakes at York. It is not a little singular coincidence that the winner of the first two thousand guineas stake, exactly fifty years ago, was also named The Wizard.—Both the first and the second horses in the race the present year, The Wizard and The Rap, are by the same sire—West Australian—and trained by the same person—Mr. John Scott, of Multon. So frequently does this trainer surprise the ring by his racing coup d'etats that he has acquired the tittle of "The Wizard of the North." He also trained West Australian when he accomplished the unprecedented feat of winning the 2,000 guineas, Derby, St. Leger and Ascot cup. So little were the public prepared to see The Wizard win that his price at starting was actually 25 to 1. He had been tried at home before the race, and had been beaten by his trial horses, Tom Bowline and Cape Flyaway. The confidence of the stable was not entirely lost, as he jumped into the air at starting, and thus lost considerable ground.

There were fifteen entries for the race—The Wizard, The Rap, Traducer, King of Diamonds, Nicholas, Richmond, Tom Bowline, Ebony, Brother to Rainbow, Lupellus, Aurora, Wamba, VonStorm, Merrimac, and Grenadier.

The curiosity to witness the horses as they quitted the saddling stable prior to proceeding to the starting post was evidenced by the large throng of pedestrians and equestrians who congregated in the vicinity of the ditch. When the fifteen competitors had proceeded to the post, the crowd gradually diminished, and the spectators at the cords were enabled to command a full and uninterrupted view of them when they formed in line.—The start was most satisfactorily effected, and no sooner had Mr. Hubbard dropped his flag than the horses were off on equal terms. Two divisions were soon formed, Traducer making the running on the whip hand, with King of Diamonds, Lupellus, Brother to Rainbow, and Nicholas on his left following him in the order named. On the ring side of the course were Richmond, Ebony, Tom Bowline, and Merrimac, nearly level with the lot above mentioned. Aurora, The Wizard, and The Rap were next, close up.

They ran slowly to the Bushes hill, where the Wizard, who had always been going within himself, began to creep forward, closely attended by his stable companion, The Rap. On reaching the dip, just before entering the cords, Ashmall let The Wizard out, and the horse galloped in the winner by three lengths; half a length between the second and third—the Rap and Traducer. King of Diamonds, was an indifferent fourth, Lupellus fifth, Brother to Rainbow sixth, Wamba, Ebony, and Merrimac next. Grenadier and Tom Bowline, close together, were the next two.

Net value of the stakes, £3,700.

The American horses still hold their position as favorites for the two great races—the Chester Cup and Epsom Derby.

POWDER AND SHOT.

A. H. GARDNER & CO.,

NO. 17 WISCONSIN STREET,

Presidential Election!

THE GREAT CAMPAIGN

IS AT HAND!!

Let Every Republican Prepare for the Conflict!!

Circulate Truth among the People!!

THE WEEKLY SENTINEL

Six Months for Less than Cost of Paper and Printing!!!

READ AND BE CONVINCED!

The approaching campaign is to be a memorable one. The battle will be fought zealously between the friends and the enemies of Freedom, and the ground contested inch by inch. In view of these facts, it is apparent that the dissemination of Republican papers and documents becomes of vast and vital importance. In order to furnish the WEEKLY SENTINEL to the people of the North-West, during the Campaign of 1860, we have concluded to offer the paper, FROM THE 16TH OF MAY TO THE 16TH OF NOVEMBER, at the following unprecedented liberal terms:

One Copy for - - - - -	$0 50
Twenty Copies, (to one address) -	9 00
Fifty " " " -	20 00
One Hundred do " " " -	35 00

These terms will barely cover the cost of paper before it is printed; but we have determined to put the price so low that every individual Republican, or organized Club, in this or adjoining States, will use their best endeavors to scatter the SENTINEL broadcast in their particular localities, and thus accomplish more than by the circulation of ten times as many documents in any other form. Every Campaign subscriber will receive the Proceedings of the National Convention, to be held in May, and full returns of the election in November.

We need not urge upon our Republican friends the importance of placing this sheet in the hands of all. Let NO VOTER, or family in the State, be without the SENTINEL during the Campaign. Wheresoever facts are read and the people have access to truth, Republicanism prevails.

Send in your orders as early in May as possible. ☞ Address

JERMAIN & BRIGHTMAN.

MILWAUKEE, April 9, 1860.

☞ REPUBLICAN PAPERS in this State, with whom we exchange, will please publish the above, or the substance of it, one or two times, and thereby lay us under additional obligation for the favor.

Special Notices.

Invocation to the Powers of Nature.

Be gracious, heaven! for now laborious man
Has done his part. Ye fostering breezes blow!
Ye softening dews; ye tender showers, descend!
And temper all, thou world-reviving sun,
Into the perfect year! For ye who live
In luxury and ease, in pomp and pride,
Think these lost themes unworthy of your ear;
Such themes as these the rural Maro sung
To wide-imperial Rome, in the full height
Of elegance and taste, by Greece refined.

[THOMSON.

SPRING.

When from the wintry tropics of the sun
Full sixty days their finished round have run,
Lo! then the sacred Sleep Arcturus leave,
First white-aproned on the verge of eve.
Through the gray dawn the swallow lifts her wing,
Morn-plaining bird, the harbinger of spring.

The Prize Fight—English Opinions.

Correspondence Manchester Guardian.

LONDON, Monday Afternoon.

The international fight still continues to be a more absorbing and universal topic than Reform, annexation, or anything else. I have seen many who were present at the fight—experienced judges in such matters. The opinion I should be most inclined to rely upon points to this conclusion, that Heenan's hug in the 30th round, or thereabouts, had gone far, for the time, to stupify Sayers, and that the roughs among his backers, seeing this, were the real breakers of the ring. Had Sayers been fighting a decidedly winning battle, my informants were of opinion the ring would have been kept intact. The police were not in force to break through the circle that hemmed in the ring, nor were they at all eager about the work. I hear the referee blamed for not taking the decided course of bringing Heenan up to the scratch at last, and awarding the victory to him if Sayers did not show at the scratch on time being called.

It seems doubtful, if at the moment the moment the fight closed, Sayers was not sick and abroad, from the effect of Heenan's hug, though he very soon recovered from its effects. He is said to have received the injury to his right arm in the 4th round, but it was, in fact, rather the result of repeated stoppings of Heenan's heavy left-handers, than the effect of any single blow. I am induced to think that the fight must be resumed if both parties are to be satisfied. I hear that neither man is much the worse for his punishment, though Sayers' right arm is still disabled. I particularly questioned my friend, who is an old frequenter of the ring, on the knock-down blows, said to have been administered by Heenan. He said there were not above three blows given by him that deserved the name. In other words, Sayers went down when he felt a blow coming, fell rather to avoid the shock of resistance than because he could not keep his legs. This showed sound ring discretion.

My informant praised the conduct of both men all through the fight. Heenan's hugging of Sayers was quite in accordance with listic laws. The cutting of the rope, if done by Sayers' seconds, would have lost him the fight. It seems to have been done by an outsider, no doubt in Sayers' interest. The gallant Tom is in high feather, and much impressed with the sympathy of which he continues to receive such substantial marks from all sorts of people. It was already something to have fought under the eyes of three Dukes, and more than one member of Parliament, to say nothing of Guardsmen, titled and untitled, and other "swells" too numerous to mention.

FAIR PLAY.

To the Editor of the London Times—SIR: —I am sure you will allow me to make a few observations on behalf of the gallant Benicia Boy, who is not, I think, receiving quite fair play at the hands of his hosts, the English. He is accused of having acted unfairly, in having nearly throttled Tom Sayers, and in having bored him down against the ropes until he was black in the face.

The battle was to be fought according to the rules of the English prize ring. These rules allow a combatant to throw his arm around his opponent's neck, and having so secured his head to pummel it as long and as violently as he can. If he does not squeeze the neck pretty tight, it is improbable that his antagonist will permit him to hold his head in such a disagreeable fix; and if the said squeezing causes his antagonist to become prematurely black in the face, which is not unlikely, so much the worse for his antagonist and so much the better for him, that is all.

Mind, I don't defend the rules of the prize ring, for I think they are very brutal; I merely say that Heenan's method of fighting was entirely in accordance with them, and that if it had not been, and if he had been pronounced to have acted foully by the referee, he would have instantly lost the battle.

Again, he seems to suffer in public estimation because he is a bigger man than Sayers. That is certainly his advantage, but it is not hist faul. He challenged the best man in England—the Champion of England. If the best man had been a big man he would have fought him. He chanced to be a small one, and he has fought him. What more could he have done to prove his courage, skill, and vigor?

Sayers deserves all credit for having continued the fight so long with his right arm disabled by the terrible blows of Heenan. But surely Heenan deserves, perhaps, more credit for having so disabled Sayers than Sayers does for having bunged up and blinded Heenan's eyes.

At Farnborough Sayers' friends and backers numerically exceeded those of Heenan in the proportion of ten to one.

If the English party, the stronger, had been anxious that the fight should go on, I think that that the doctrine of probabilities leads us to suppose that it would have gone on. If the American party, the weaker, fearing their man would be beaten, had wished it to be stopped, I think the same doctrine points out to us that their wishes would not, in all probability, have been gratified.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Meeting at Constitutional Head-Quarters.

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.

There were able addresses delivered by the delegates of the late Convention.

A procession was formed, headed by a band, which proceeded to the La Pierre House to serenade Senator Bell.

Mr. Bell was introduced from the balcony by Jas. A. Ingersoll, who eulogized the unanimity of the Convention and the delegates present.

Mr. Bell was received with cheers. He said it would be contrary to human nature if he did not feel deeply sensible of the honor paid him. But he also felt that the assemblage was mainly to oppose the action of the Convention. He did not appear, he said, to make a speech upon the political topics of the day, but to utter his thanks for the present manifestation.

He alluded to the cause which led to the present distrust of both Democratic and Republican parties. He trusted that the party to succeed them would be a party of the Union, and in the Conventions the country required the people to come forth in their might and manifest a determination to roll back the Convention to the true object of the institutions of a Republican Government, and not exhaust its energies in objects trivial.

It is now manifest that the public confidence in the stability of the Republic has declined within the last twenty years, and the Convention therefore wisely banished from its consideration all exciting topics that had scattered distrust between the North and the South, knowing that it could lead to no public good. That Convention thought fit, among such a host of worthies, to select your speaker. It is a compliment of which I feel my very unworthiness. He concluded by trusting that a party founded with such auspicious harmony and good feeling would be successful in establishing a new era, and, if so, the Convention shall not have labored in vain. His course for the last twenty years was well known, and it would be needless to refer to it. Again thanking the Convention for the honor conferred upon him, Mr. Bell resumed, and heartily though not general cheering.

From occasional interruptions and responses uttered, it was evident the crowd was composed of miscellaneous persons, attracted by curiosity, and that the friends of the cause have hardly had time to get their enthusiasm to fever heat yet.

New York Matters.

NEW YORK, May 12—3 P. M.

The Tribune says: The joint special committee of the common council, appointed to adopt measures for extending the hospitalities of the city to the Japanese Ambassadors now yesterday, and appointed a sub committee to proceed immediately to Washington to obtain an interview with President Buchanan and through him extend the freedom and hospitality of the city to the illustrious visitors. A resolution was also adopted to the effect that the Mayor be authorized, in the name of the common council to receive and address to the Oriental Ambassadors, upon their return from Washington to New York.

There was quite a numerous gathering of people at the Cooper Institute last night, in response to a call for a general expression of sympathy for Thaddeus Hyatt, now imprisoned at Washington, for refusing to testify before the Senate committee of investigation in relation to the John Brown foray on Harper's Ferry. Very strong speeches were made by Dr. Chevier, Wendell Phillips, and Wm. Lloyd Garrison, and a great deal of enthusiasm prevailed.

The steamer New York sailed to-day for Southampton and Bremen, with 340 passengers and $300,000 in specie.

The City of Manchester, for Queenstown, and Liverpool, took out 221 passengers at $217,000 in specie.

The Japanese Embassy.

WASHINGTON, May 11.

The steamer Philadelphia left for Hampton Roads at 2 P. M., to receive the Japanese embassy. The embassy is to be received at the Navy Yard with great pomp, and conducted to their quarters under military escort. It is the intention of the President to have a formal interview on Wednesday, in presence of the Cabinet and others holding prominent public positions.

Down on the Bolters.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 11.

Hon. A. H. Stephens has written a letter in reply to several gentlemen of Macon, in which he sustains the principles of non-intervention and disapproves of the secession from the Charleston Convention. He also recommends that delegates be sent to Baltimore.

Great Drought in New England.

BOSTON, May 12. —3 P. M.

There is an excessive drought throughout New England. In New Hampshire they drive the cattle miles for water. Fires in the woods are also raging in many localities. At Hyannis, on the Cape, yesterday, a fire spread over 1,000 acres of woodland, and is still extending.

Fatal Accident.

LOUISVILLE, May 11.

Dr. Steele, of St. Louis, was wounded, perhaps fatally, by the accidental discharge of a pistol, in his pocket, while going from Louisville to Frankfort on the cars, this afternoon.

Sudden Death.

OGDENSBURGH, N. Y., May 11.

Augustus Chapman, Esq., President of the Ogdensburgh Bank of Ogdensburgh, died in a fit very suddenly this morning, at his residence in Morristown.

The Oregon Vote at Chicago.

WASHINGTON, May 12—3 P. M.

Eli Thayer, of Mass., and Horace Greeley, substitutes for the Oregon delegates to Chicago, are instructed to vote for Judge Bates.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S [illegible]RT

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, May 12—0 P. M.

HOUSE.—The House agreed that when it adjourned it be till three o'clock Monday, in order to enable members to witness the landing of the Japanese Embassy previous to that hour.

Mr Grow moved to take up the bill to establish a temporary government for Idaho, which was postponed from Thursday till to-day.

Mr. Clark, of Missouri, raised a point of order, that this bill was yesterday laid on the table.

Mr. Grow said the bills were not identical—one requiring two thirds of the Legislative Assembly to overrule the veto of the government, and the other merely made the majority.

The Speaker decided that the pending bill was not tabled yet.

Mr Barksdale replied that if this decision was right, action on any bill would not be concluded.

Mr. Grow said there were fifteen or twenty thousand persons in Idaho, and argued that it the General Government has power to acquire territory, it is its duty to make arrangements by which settlers can be protected by an established government. This bill was the most meritorious of the series.

Mr. Clark, of Mo., said every foot of Idaho is within the organized territories of Utah, Kansas and Nebraska.

Mr. Case spoke in favor of the bill, saying Pike's Peak is nearly 600 miles from the capital of Kansas, and the people there may have their own provisional government in defiance of existing law. He controverted Mr. Thayer's views about territorial jurisdiction and hinted that the latter was not sound in the Republican party faith.

Mr. Houston charged partizan motives on those who supported the series of territorial measures, and moved to table the Idaho bill. Carried by 91 against 78.

The House then went into committee of the whole on territorial business. Several bills passed, including those providing for the completion of military roads in the territories of Washington and New Mexico. Adjourned.

Total insurance on cargo	$14,500

The propeller was insured in the Commercial of Cleveland for $10,000—about half her value.

LATER.

THE PRAIRIE STATE SAFE!—PART OF HER CARGO SAVED.—About 7 o'clock this (Saturday) evening, the propeller Prairie State, which was generally supposed to be at the bottom of the Straits, arrived here, having been raised by the aid of a steam pump and the tug Leviathan. Her cargo was all got out and stored at Mackinaw, some eight or nine hundred barrels of the flour dry and the balance more or less damaged. The propeller struck on Michigan Point and sank in about water. The only damage she sustained was having a hole stove in her hull, which will not require more than two days to repair, when she will be as sound as ever. The tug Leviathan accompanied her here, but her engine was working. Her arrival was quite as unexpected as it was gratifying to the Insurance men and agents, who had made up their minds that the vessel and cargo were a total loss.

STATES.—Yesterday the following vessels were loading with staves at the Detroit & Milwaukee Railway docks: brig Carolina, schooners G. F. Richmond, Utica, and Gen. Hunt. The Carolina is loading for Europe. Two other vessels have also taken cargoes of staves for Europe from same dock, and other vessels have laden for various European ports. The road taps an immense timber district, and is furnishing it with no inconsiderable amount of freight.—Detroit Advertiser, Friday.

MESSRS. MILES & SMITH, of Buffalo, have chartered the schooner Geo. W. Holt to freight walnut lumber from Toledo to Boston. She will commence taking on her cargo next week. They have also chartered the schooners Alaska, Twin Brothers and Twin Sisters to freight walnut lumber direct from Chicago to Boston, which vessels will load the latter part of June, making a total of eight vessels that have already been engaged and others to follow during the season.

The schooners West Wind and Fashion have also been chartered to load next week from Toledo to Boston.—Ibid.

VESSELS PASSING DETROIT.—The following vessels passed Detroit on Thursday:

Bound Up—Steamer Michigan; propellers Northern Light, Scioto, Mt. Vernon, Nile, Wenona, Rocket, Marquette; bark Emma; schooners Hubbard, Traveler, Alaska, Leonard, Detroit.

Bound Down—Schooners G. D. Norris, Shook, T. Baker, Wm. Fliss, Enterprise, Chas. C. Griswold, Peerless, C. Rich.

COLLISIONS.—The schooner Caroline E. Baily while beating into St. Clair river on Tuesday morning, came into collision with the Grand Trunk barges which were engaged in laying the cable for the use of the ferry boat Huron, breaking them from their mooring, and they went down river but were towed back. The vessel had her head gear carried away.

On Wednesday morning two vessels in tow of the tug Arrow, also ran into the barges. The hindmost vessel broke her anchor-stock, parted her cable, and left her anchor on board one of the barges.—Detroit Tribune, Friday.
